

BRITISH DALMATIAN WELFARE
Registered Charity No 1086519

Over 200 Dalmatians each year are helped by British Dalmatian Welfare. Most require our help to find them a new home.

The Dalmatian has become increasingly popular in recent years mainly due to their high profile with the Disney films.

Too many Dalmatians are obtained as puppies by well intentioned owners without the necessary forethought. The puppy soon becomes a fully grown boisterous adult whose owners have either grown tired of them or are not able to fulfil their needs.

Changes in domestic arrangements, the illness or death of an owner can result in a much loved and well cared for Dalmatian requiring to find a new home.

Some Dalmatians find their way to us without any history.

The work of the British Dalmatian Welfare costs money i.e. veterinary fees, kenneling, transportation, telephone calls, traveling expenses for assessing potential homes, neuter assist scheme etc.

You may wish to consider making an application to become a Friend of British Dalmatian Welfare. Your annual donation applicable of £5 will greatly assist the Charity in its work.
